New to the Angelina Heart Newsletter?*

Be sure to read the post script at the end.

Includes Angelina's Message: The Awakening Twin Flame Heart

To My Spirit Family:

Daily we're each inspired by the creative efforts and genius of God individualized through great writers, musicians, producers, journalists, artists and by those whose works unify our hearts.

It is my greatest privilege to share information about the following people and their work. Each has touched me deeply and I encourage you to explore both their sites and work. You, too, will, no doubt, find your soul expanded.

- Your Life's Concealed Meanings - Dr. Eldon Taylor

A Hay-House, New York Times best-selling author is launching his new book, What Does That Mean? This work has touched me so deeply that I wanted to share it with all of you. It is a must-read for any thinking person who has ever questioned if reality is only relative. According to Taylor, our perception of reality is always in flux, relative to our conditioning, experiences, belief systems, our willingness to open our hearts and minds to new paradigms, and whether or not we live in fear or love. This autobiographical tale reveals how one of the most brilliant minds in America came to question reality and the value and purpose of our multi-level perceptions. Each new reality initiates a journey into a trajectory of soul expansion, and more importantly, brings one to the full awareness that we create our own realities.

Hay House is offering some spectacular bonuses for those who order from this first launch, so check it out:

- Keya Lablanquie-Pralat (Artist Name: Keya Kyea)

You're going to love this brilliant Swiss Soul/Jazz performer, lyricist and composer. Keya has recently released ONLY LOVE, a song that will disarm any guards at the door to your heart and replace any frozen feelings with only hope, joy and love. Her work will also be of great interest to those looking to put an international flavor of the highest frequencies of love behind their film and web-video productions.

- The Spirit Revolution

Recently I was interviewed on a new BBS radio program called The Spirit Revolution, (available on archive) hosted by NY Times best-selling author, Kathleen McGowan, and her partner, world-renown author and journalist, Philip Coppens. Their live shows airs on BBS internet radio on Tuesdays at 6pm PST. Go to their website and check out both the archived shows as well as their personal work, for each has contributed a tremendous amount of knowledge which has unveiled a great many esoteric mysteries.

- Lilou Mace

I recently had the privilege of being interviewed by this lovely soul, a French-American author, socialite, web TV host and international Internet self-improvement video blogger. Lilou is a prominent proponent of the "Universal Laws" and co-founder of a Law of Attraction-based Internet community. As a video journalist Lilou's tremendous variety of interviews with leading spiritual authors and speakers of our time have earned over three million views on YouTube. I highly recommend you visit her site and archived interviews. My interview is also available for viewing on the links below.

The Awakening Twin Flame Heart

Upon first meeting, they instantly recognized the other half of their soul in each other's eyes and the most intense exploration of love swiftly unfolded. There was no need for the ritual of getting to know one another and their loving relationship initiated with powerful intensity. A continual circulation of orgasmic energy pulsed through them and although sexual in nature, it most often culminated in a profound exchange between their hearts rather than their loins. For the first time in their lives they felt absolute unity with another being.

With a strong telepathic connection, they'd laugh as one would consistently finish the other's sentence. At first, they could not be parted from one another and, sensing they had a larger purpose to fulfill, began to dream of ways to serve humanity through their joint efforts.

Then, several months later, everything changed dramatically. Where once they could see only God before them, now they could no longer fathom where that vision came from. Where once each had been a sovereign being, a sense of co-dependency had developed. Competition and control had entered the equation. Their initial state of constant giving had been displaced by interior language that asked, "What's in this for me?"

After such a whirlwind explosion of the most spiritually activated love on the deepest levels, how is it so many problems rose so quickly with the power to blow them apart? How could one of them still remember and long for the union and the other walk away as if nothing ever happened?

Is this a story similar to your own?

Could there be anything more painful than feeling this type of love and then having it vanish? With a devastated and 'broken' heart, the disappointment in love and a sense of soul betrayal pries open a door of self-doubt and questioning. Yet, this questioning can act as the greatest means to propel you into the discovery of the most profound love of all. This painful point from which your ego believes there is no recovery is the leaping point – the one where you either remain immobilized in grief OR truly begin to search for answers about your Twin Flame identity.

In the last decade I've received thousands of letters from people describing this experience, while begging to understand how their "Twin" could leave them. "How could this opportunity be lost?"

Such an experience is a very powerful wake-up call for it acts as a catalyst in which all obstacles to love will rise to the surface for you in an exaggerated manner. The pulse of a continued profound longing to join with your beloved Twin Flame asks you to break down all barriers to true love. It is the navigational tool of longing that will lead you to discover that your Twin is God within you as your balanced complementary energy form.

What you long for is conscious union with God. And when you love God as you in your complementary energy form with absolute abandon, then you will find it out-pictured as the symbols in your world. One of those symbols may or may not be the fullness of your multidimensional Twin Flame energetic essence embodied within another physical form. But the symbol of another before you will always act as an exact mirror to both your own level of consciousness and the level at which you have balanced the two primal forces of creation, (the Divine Feminine and Masculine), within.

Through my spiritual guidance I've been inspired to revisit, very slowly, these stages of the awakening Twin Flame Heart. Although so many who follow my work have catapulted way beyond ego's interpretation of the situation described in the above story, there are many more who have joined your ranks as all of our hearts continue to open wider and wider in preparation for a quantum leap in consciousness for all humanity. The SLOWER the education, the FASTER the conscious mind understands.

The human psyche rarely grasps anything it doesn't already possess vibrationally within its experiential field. That's why the process of 'seed setting' is so critical - 'line upon line, precept upon precept.' As consciousness peels away the layers of the familiar to expose the unfamiliar, it ultimately changes the model of enlightenment. Self-realization is the first stage of enlightenment with resonant fields in relationship. It brings God to relationship.

I'm in the process of preparing several graduated modules of Twin Flame education so each inquiring heart and mind can comprehend from its current vibratory level. When these teaching modules are completed, an announcement will be sent to you via my newsletter. In the meantime, however, if you've experienced something similar to the above story, please take the time to read my elementary discourse on Twin Flames: Twin Flame Physics; Cracking the Code
<http://www.heartflamepublishing.com/twinflamephysics.html>

There are many among you who have long-since graduated to the inner education and are providing a tremendous service to both the planet and humanity. Those who are inspired to follow through with the graduated modules are heading in the same direction as those who have become God-self-realized. The role you'll play in the shift of planetary consciousness through the embodiment of your Twin Flame Heart love is far beyond any comprehension of the ego's interpretation of love and service. If the longing of your heart for reunion with your Twin has led you to this material, you can be sure your soul is guiding you toward a greater expression of love than any illusion your ego could create.

It is my greatest privilege to serve you in any way I can by providing what I've personally learned and experienced. I am not a "Twin Flame Guru" – the guru model is dead. We're all co-creating our future and providing each other with the knowledge we've accumulated as all the pieces of the puzzle come together. This knowledge is not something I own and covetously protect. Rather, it's something that's been given to me from myriad sources and I joyously share with anyone who is interested. I stand forever in the deepest gratitude for each of you and the light and love you are fearlessly bringing to the world and to my life. With deepest affection,

Only Love is Real
And being and giving love are the only things that matter!
